DISASTER RECOVERY SITE CHECKLIST

DATA FOUNDRY

If your business loses thousands of dollars in revenue from just one hour of downtime, it's essential to consider a secure and reliable secondary site for your backup servers and your staff. Use this list as a tool to evaluate your company's disaster preparedness and the capabilities of your secondary site.

DR PLAN	YES	NO
Do you currently have a DR plan in place?	○	○	Check out the 10 key factors to consider when evaluating a data center for disaster recovery.
Have you tested your plan in the last 12 months?	○	○
Does your plan include a data center facility as a secondary site for your servers and staff?	○	○

SECONDARY SITE LOCATION	YES	NO
Is your secondary site located more than 100 miles from your primary location?	○	○	See why Austin is the safe and smart choice.
Is your secondary site located outside of areas affected by hurricanes, earthquakes, tornadoes, floods, blizzards and tsunamis?	○	○

POWER	YES	NO
Does the site provide enough room for your company to expand?	○	○	Read about dual power feeds.
Does your secondary site provide N+1 generator power?	○	○

NETWORKING	YES	NO
Is your secondary site connected to multiple fiber carriers?	○	○	Find out why Texas 1 is the most redundant and diverse data center in Texas.
Is their network infrastructure independent and diverse?	○	○

OFFICE SPACE	YES	NO
Does your secondary site include office space for your employees?	O	O	See how dedicated office space can help ensure your business stays up and running.
Is this office space dedicated for your use only?	O	O
Does this office space provide meeting rooms, hardwired and wireless networking connection?	O	O

SUPPORT	YES	NO
Are there support personnel physically on site 24/7/365 to act as your remote IT staff?	O	O	Data Foundry's support services ensure zero downtime even in the event of a disaster.
Do they offer drop shipping/installation services?	O	O
Do they offer network and data center uptime SLAs?	O	O
Is there a Network Operations Center on site?	O	O

AMENITIES	YES	NO
Is your secondary site easily accessible via several major highways and/or an international airport?	O	O
Does your secondary site have a break room stocked with food and drinks?	O	O
Does your secondary site have showers and a place to rest for employees that must stay on site for extended periods?	O	O

If you answered no to 4 or more of the questions above, or if you would like to speak to a disaster recovery specialist about selecting a DR site, contact us for a consultation.